Subscribers will save the trouble of letter-writing by paying their subscriptions to the Agent at their place.

Correspondents will please send Letters so as to reach us not later than 9 o'clock a. m. Give facts in as few words as possible. We want news in this department, and not advertising notices or political arguments.

A TRIBUTE FROM LOUISVILLE.

In a letter to the editor, inclosing a year's subscription, the venerable Dan Spalding of Louisville takes occasion to say some very complimentary things about THE LEDGER and its belongings, and also to point a moral, thus:

There is one request I would like to make of you or your goat, or whoever writes the poetry. It is this: Don't recommend that cure for grip you did in 1890. I know one of the brightest intellects, and a prospective candidate for the Presidency, who takes that cure so frequently that he is almost totally unfitted for business. Don't recommend it as a cure for anything. It is filling more graves than all the wars and pestilence that ever devastated this country and you know it. I wonder if any stockholder in your Keeley Sanitarium is a Christian distiller. We have one in Louisville. Some of the stockholders are wealthy distillers. They get all out of the unfortunate drunkard for the accursed stuff, and his friends have to raise funds to pay them for sobering him, so the work pays at both ends. Well, I'm glad you nominated Ben, and I hope you may elect him. If the unfettered come in fresh they will take everything in sight. You "fellows" have about got your fill and will be satisfied to retain your offices without making a fresh grab. If Ben should be successful I hope he will continue you, as you are making a good Postmaster, and you and your goat are publishing a right good, newsy paper, but I don't know which is the editor or poet.

Wishing you abundant success, I am, yours truly,
D. SPALDING.

WEDONIA.

James M. Walker and Seldon W. Bramel are in Cincinnati this week in the interest of their tobacco.

Rev. Hugh McLeland, Pastor of the Millcreek Christian Church, is circulating among his members this week.

Farmers, don't forget that R. B. & E. E. Cord have plenty of the best lard oil and binder-twine. Give them a call and save money.

R. B. Cord, our accommodating Postmaster, wishes to let it be known that his office is now in working order, and all that wish to patronize the office will have their mail changed to Wedonia.

Miss Annie Hord returned home Monday from Alabama, where she has been teaching the past ten months. Many of the patrons of the school here want Miss Hord to take charge of it this year. We hope that she will accept. We know from past success that she will have one of the best schools ever taught in this neighborhood.

The suit against Isaac Graveson, the Cincinnati stone man, on account of the death of William Gibson, an employee, has been compromised for $1,000.

The Kentucky Trotting-horse Breeders' Association at Lexington has decided to give a ten days' meeting in October, instead of six days as heretofore announced. St. Joseph's Hospital and the Protestant Infirmary will be given the gate receipts on the fourth day. The total amount of money hung up for this meeting will be $50,000, more money than was ever given at a Kentucky meeting before. The Association claims two weeks, beginning with next year, the meetings to commence the second Monday in October.

Miss Osborne of Pittsburgh, a sister of Harry Osborne, one of the men injured in the fall of the Licking bridge read in the list of names of the injured the name of her brother, whom she had not seen for many years. She communicated with Chief Goodson of Covington, and that official detailed Sergeant Sanford to trace the whereabouts of Osborne. He was finally located. His skull is fractured and one leg broken, but the attending physician is in hopes of his ultimate recovery. He is evidently the long-lost brother of Miss Osborne.

The Louisville Masons will celebrate St. John's Day in greater style than ever this year. The entertainment will be very elaborate and the accommodations will be excellent.
